Post Office Servies

- The Towson University Post Office proves similar services and products as your hometown Post Office. This includes international mailing and several package service options
- If you want your mail to go out the same day; get it in by 2:30pm

Student Mail Boxes

- Resident students with millennium Hall, Tubman House, and Harris Hall will be assigned a mailbox that matches their room number.
- The same key that is used to access the suite can access your mailbox
- If you receive someone else's mail please return it to the MISFILED box, located on the wall near your mail box area.

Receiving Packages

- Students are notified via their TU email when they have a package ready for pick-up.
- Notifications are typically sent one or two business days after the carrier's delivery, based on the volume of packages that need to be processed.
- Students should bring their TU ID to pick-up.
